DESTINATION

Here are our must-visit attractions when visiting the beautiful city of Reykjavik.

Hallgrímskirkja

This church is the largest in the country and can be found in the centre of Reykjavik. Its beautiful, unique, gothic architecture makes it one of the most popular tourist attractions in Iceland.

Blue Lagoon

The Blue Lagoon is a definitely one to tick off the bucket-list when visiting Reykjavik. This indulgent geothermal spa boasts beautiful bright blue waters and spectacular scenery of surrounding lava fields. It's an experience not to miss.

Harpa

Harpa is Reykjavik's concert hall and is a building of beauty. The shimmering interior and views over the water make it one of the most iconic spots in the city. Plus, there's always an array of fantastic shows on offer throughout the year.

Seljalandsfoss and Skógafoss waterfalls

Seljalandsfoss and Skógafoss waterfalls are just outside of Reykjavik but are a great day trip for fans of magical scenery. You're even able to walk behind the waterfalls so don't forget your raincoat!

Northern Lights

Don't miss the opportunity to visit the famous Northern Lights. Take a trip on one of the many offered tours and hunt for the spectacular lights, also known as the Aurora Borealis. Tours are seasonal and operate between September and April.
